

SOME INTERESTING PAPERS

BATCH OF OLD LETTERS AND PAPERS OWNED BY DENTON MAN.

ROBERT LEE'S SIGNATUR

James Bowie and Many Other Prominent Southern Leaders.

Duggan of the Denton Trust Company a batch of old papers and documents that are probably not to be duplicated anywhere in the world. The papers contain letters and signatures written by some of the great

Gen. Robert E. Lee, President Zachary Taylor, as Jefferson, James Bowie, who met his death in the historic Alamo, the noted Confederate Senator William O. Butler and others of almost equal prominence. A number of the letters were written as early as 1830. Others were written during the Union of the civil war and pertain to matters connected with the army of the Confederate States.

One of the documents is the commission of R. P. Bowie as colonel of the Third Regiment, commanded by Brigadier General Ureus of the Army of the Republic of Texas. This commission is dated April 3, 1837, and is signed by the president of the Texas Republic, Mirabeau B. Lamar. The Brigadier General, Green, also has attached to his signature of Q. D. Gibbs, and a stamp.

There is also among the papers the will of James Bowie, dated Feb. 13, 1837, in which he bequeathed all of his property to his son, James P. Bowie, his brother-in-law, Alex B. Sterrett and the latter's wife.

Under date of Richmond, Va., March 15, 1841, is an order of the Texas Legislature, signed by Governor (later President) J. C. Moore, commanding the J. C. Moore's army, to St. Louis, directing that there be delivered to W. B. Oldham a double-barrelled shotgun and such apparatus (ammunition) as are required to make

There is a statement from Wm. Brune to James Bowie showing the latter to be indebted to the former in the sum of $249.89. This statement is dated Natchez, Dec. 10.

There is also to be found among the papers an inventory of the property of James Rowe, made after his death by Eugenio Navarra on the first Monday in September during the year 1837.

There is also in the package a letter from Henry D. Patrick to Hon. W. S. Oldham written

There is an order under date of San Felipe, November 17, 1884, signed James Bowie and directed that the money be paid to John Chas. Despallier to pay to John M. Jones the sum of $69.33 and note in favor of H. A. Lewis, signed by James Bowie.

General Robert E. Lee's signature is attached to the following order:

"Headquarters Army of N. V.
Guards and pickets will pass John Odham, C. S. Senator to the Texas brigade and back at Richmond as will. H. E. LEE, Gen.

The signature of Jefferson Davis follows a letter written by him to Mr. Odham. The letter is dated at Richmond, June 10, 1864, and reads:

Besides the papers mentioned there are several others and many of them are of an interesting nature. In a number of cases the paper on which the writing was done was faded and brown, but others, as almost as well preserved as the first, they were touched by the pen. The signature of General Lee is especially well preserved as it also the corner in which the letter was folded.

Mr. Deaguer has had this paper for only a few years. He received them through and will not talk of parting with them at any price. He is anxious to have his descendants know he took care that they were safe.

Figure 1. The effect of the initial concentration of the monomer on the polymerization of o-chlorophenol initiated by Cu^{2+} at 60 °C. The initial concentration of Cu^{2+} was 0.001 mol/L. The initial concentration of H_2O_2 was 0.001 mol/L. The initial concentration of H^+ was 0.001 mol/L. The initial concentration of H_2O was 0.001 mol/L. The initial concentration of H_2O_2 was 0.001 mol/L. The initial concentration of H^+ was 0.001 mol/L. The initial concentration of H_2O was 0.001 mol/L.

Figure 1 consists of two panels. The top panel shows a wooden plank with a metal rod and a weight hanging from it. The bottom panel shows a similar setup with a different weight.

Figure 1 consists of two grayscale photographs of a concrete slab. The top photograph shows the slab with a grid of steel reinforcement bars (rebar) embedded in it. The bottom photograph shows the same slab after the concrete has been removed, revealing the rebar grid more clearly.

ANTI-UNIONISTS WIN THE SUIT

In an agreement for church union.

In reply to the argument that if the members of the membership is composed to the power to form unions, that under such conditions no church

could be established, the court said, "But it is not that it is the rule that church union cannot be formed without the consent of all the churches or all the members of the different churches, that church

union cannot be perfected in any single church, and that the consent of the members of the different churches is not required

because of the difficulty of getting them to agree. This may be true, but it is not an argument against the validity of the suit, which is based on the fact that the church union

is a contract, and that the members of the church union

are bound by its terms, and that the church union is a contract between the members of the
